Be Sure of your refrigerant compatibility!

As refrigerants with high GWP values are gradually disappearing from the market, more climate-friendly (yet flammable) refrigerant classes; A2L is becoming increasingly important due to its lower GWP and toxicity to the environment.

With these upcoming changes, you can be sure the entire lineup of Testo's refrigeration tools are compatible with A2L refrigerants. Not to mention with the powerful testo Smart App, you will always be up-to-date with the latest refrigerants available to the market, synced directly to your Digital Manifold.
